A School Magazine

A school magazine is a very important part of a school. It is usually published once a year with the help of students and teachers. The magazine contains poems, short stories, essays, jokes, drawings, and articles written by the students. It also includes reports of school programs, sports, cultural events, and the success of students. A school magazine gives students a chance to show their talent and share their ideas. It helps them to improve their writing skills, creativity, and confidence. A committee of students and teachers works together to collect and edit the writings. The headmaster gives advice and supervises the whole work. Students feel proud when their writing is printed in the magazine. A school magazine is a source of joy for students and teachers. It also keeps the sweet memories of school life alive for a long time.

Tree Plantation

Tree plantation means planting trees in large numbers. Trees are very important in our life. They give us fresh air to breathe by taking in carbon dioxide and giving out oxygen. Trees also give us fruits, flowers, wood, and shade. They make the weather cool and help to keep the air clean. Trees protect the soil from washing away and help to bring rain. They are home to many birds and animals. But nowadays, many trees are being cut down to build houses, roads, and factories. This is very harmful for nature and for us. If we cut down too many trees, the air becomes dirty, the weather becomes too hot, and we get less rain. So, we must plant more trees and take care of them. Every person should plant at least one tree every year. More trees mean a better life, a better future, and a beautiful green world.

Environment Pollution

Environmental pollution is a big problem that harms the earth and all living things. It happens when harmful materials like chemicals, plastic, and smoke pollute the air, water, and land. Factories, cutting down trees, and burning fossil fuels all cause pollution. Air pollution can make people sick, while water pollution harms fish and makes water unsafe to drink. Pollution in the soil makes it hard to grow healthy crops. To stop pollution, we need to recycle, use clean energy, and plant more trees. Governments should also make rules to protect the environment. If we don't act now, pollution will keep damaging our planet and affect future generations

Your school library

A school library is a very important place in a school. It is a room where many books are kept for students and teachers. There are books on different subjects like science, history, stories, and poems. Students go there to read and study in a quiet place. They can also take books home to read. The library helps students to learn new things and increase their knowledge. It also teaches them to read more and love books. The librarian takes care of the books and helps students find the books they want. Teachers use the library to prepare lessons and get information. A school library is not only useful for learning but also a good place to enjoy books. Every school should have a library because it helps students grow in knowledge and skill.

Street hawker

A street hawker is a person who sells things on the street. He does not have a shop. He walks from place to place with his goods. Sometimes he uses a cart, a basket, or carries the goods on his head. He sells things like fruits, vegetables, toys, clothes, and snacks. Street hawkers shout to call people and sell their things. They are seen in busy places like markets, bus stands, or near schools. The prices of their goods are usually low. Poor and middle-class people buy from them. They work hard in the sun and rain. They have no fixed place to stay. Though life is hard for them, street hawkers help people by selling useful things close to home.

Water Pollution

Water pollution is one of the biggest problems in the world today. It happens when harmful things are mixed with water and make it dirty. In towns and cities, people throw waste, plastics, and chemicals into rivers and canals. In villages, farmers use fertilizers and pesticides that wash away into ponds and rivers. Mills and factories also throw their waste into water. As a result, the water becomes unsafe for drinking and using. Polluted water spreads many dangerous diseases like cholera, diarrhea, and dysentery. It also kills fish and other water animals. People suffer a lot because of a shortage of clean water. To stop this problem, we must not throw waste into rivers and ponds. Factories should clean their waste before dumping it. Everyone should be careful about saving water. Safe water is life, so we must protect it for our health and future.

Deforestation

Deforestation means cutting down too many trees. It is a big problem for our country and the whole world. People cut trees to build houses, make furniture, and use wood for cooking. Many trees are also cut to make land for farming and roads. When trees are gone, our environment becomes unbalanced. Trees give us oxygen, food, shade, and wood. They keep the air cool and protect the soil from floods and erosion. If we cut too many trees, the weather becomes hot, rain becomes less, and floods and cyclones happen more often. Birds and animals also lose their homes. Deforestation is very harmful for people, animals, and nature. To save ourselves, we must stop cutting trees carelessly. We should plant more trees and take good care of them. A green world is the key to a healthy life.

Drug Addiction

Drug addiction is a very serious problem in our society. It happens when a person takes drugs again and again and cannot live without them. Many young people start taking drugs out of curiosity or to copy others. Some people take drugs to forget their problems. Drugs harm the body and mind. They make people weak, sick, and sometimes violent. Addicted people cannot work properly and lose their family, friends, and respect. Drug addiction also increases crime and social problems in the community. To stop this problem, parents and teachers must guide children carefully. Young people should say no to drugs and stay busy in study, sports, and good hobbies. Government and society must work together to create awareness about the dangers of drugs. Drug addiction is very harmful, so everyone should avoid it and live a healthy and happy life.

A Rainy Day

A rainy day is a day when the sky is full of clouds and rain falls again and again. The sun cannot be seen and everything looks dark. Sometimes the rain is light and sometimes it is heavy. Roads become muddy and many places go under water. People face problems going out. Poor people suffer much because they cannot work on such a day. Rickshaw pullers, workers, and small shopkeepers earn nothing. Students also cannot go to school easily. But a rainy day also gives joy. Children play in the rain and feel happy. Many people enjoy eating hot food like khichuri and fried fish at home. Farmers like the rain because it helps their crops grow. So, a rainy day brings both happiness and trouble. Though it creates problems, it is very important for our life and nature.

A Winter Morning

A winter morning is a cold and foggy morning. The sun rises late and sometimes it cannot be seen well because of thick fog. Everything looks white and people feel very cold. Dew drops fall on grass, leaves, and flowers, and they shine when the sun comes out. Poor people suffer much because they do not have enough warm clothes. They sit beside fire to keep warm. Children and students find it hard to wake up early for school. On the other hand, many people enjoy tasty food like pitha, date juice, molasses, and hot tea. Farmers go to the field in the cold, but they are happy because winter is good for crops. Though a winter morning is painful for some, it also has beauty. The fog, the dew, and the calm air make it special in our life.

A Tea Stall

A tea stall is a small shop where tea and some light food are sold. It is usually seen at the corner of a road, in markets, bus stands, railway stations, or near offices and schools. A tea stall is generally a crowded place. It has a few benches and tables for customers. In most stalls, biscuits, bread, bananas, eggs, and some snacks are also sold along with tea. The owner of the stall sits at the cash box and a boy or two serve the customers. People of all classes come to a tea stall. They take tea, talk with one another, and spend some time there. Many customers read newspapers and discuss politics, sports, and other daily matters. A tea stall is a meeting place for common people. Though it is small and simple, it plays an important role in the social life of our country.

The Importance of Early Rising

The habit of early rising is very important in our life. A person who gets up early in the morning enjoys fresh air and a calm mind. The morning is the best time for study because our brain is fresh and active. Students can learn their lessons better in the early hours. Early rising also gives time for walking and exercise, which keep the body strong and healthy. A person who wakes up early can finish his work on time and live without hurry. He gets enough time for study, play, and other activities. On the other hand, a late riser often misses important work and feels weak and lazy. Early rising makes a person healthy, active, and successful in life. So we all should make a habit of getting up early every day and enjoy the blessings of nature.

Your Visit to a Place of Historical Interest

Last year I visited Mahasthangarh, a famous place of historical interest in Bangladesh. It is one of the oldest cities in our country and is near Bogura town. I went there with my parents and some friends. When we reached the place, I saw many old walls, broken buildings, and ancient structures. The museum there had many old coins, pots, weapons, and statues used by people hundreds of years ago. By seeing them, I could imagine how people lived in the past. The guide told us many stories about kings and soldiers who once lived there. I felt very excited to walk around the place and touch the stones of history. The visit taught me that our country has a rich culture and glorious past. A visit to a place of historical interest is both enjoyable and educational for students like me.
